Summer camp set new direction for THS senior's life

By ALISON ALOISIO

Priscilla Thurston of Albany, a senior at Telstar High School, has had a few rough patches in her life.

When she was 8, she lived in a tent for a time. When she was in ninth grade, she earned only one credit (out of the usual six) all year.

But after she graduates in June, Priscilla will go on to the University of Maine at Farmington — on full scholarship.

What has gotten her through the tough times, the co-president of the Class of 2004 says, is a decade of summers at Camp Susan Curtis in Stoneham.

"Camp is my life," said Priscilla.

Priscilla's parents separated when she was 8. The circumstances left her and her mother sleeping first in a car, then, for a while, in a tent at a campground.

Fortunately, said Priscilla, help arrived in the person of Maryvonne Wheeler of Bethel, a social worker for Community Concepts.

"She got us a place to live, and gave me an application for Camp Susan Curtis," said Priscilla.

CSC, located in Stoneham, provides a free summer camp experience for economically disadvantaged children from Maine.

Priscilla went off to camp that summer. "I was so scared," she said.

But she got over her fear quickly, she said, because right from the first day she and the other campers got Underburns help encourage the growth of new pine and oak, and of berry-bearing bushes for wildlife. The burns also remove excess fuel build-up and provide training for firefighters, who later in the season will head out to help battle blazes elsewhere across the country. Monday's burn took place on 14 acres near Crocker Pond in Albany Township.

Dedication of WWII Memorial will be celebrated locally

By ALISON ALOISIO

On May 29, the nation will dedicate the new World War II Memorial in Washington, D.C. And here in the Bethel area, an effort is underway to recognize local veterans of that war on the same day.

The Memorial Day weekend celebration on the National Mall will be the culmination of an 11-year effort to honor the World War II generation. Construction of the memorial began in September of 2001.

The Jackson-Silver Auxiliary is planning a luncheon for area World War II veterans on the 29th, according to Olive Risko, secretary of the Auxiliary. The location has not yet been set.

In addition to the luncheon, there will be musical entertainment by a group from the Sweet Adelines. And at 2 p.m., those attending will view the dedication ceremony in Washington on television, Risko said.

The luncheon is free to veterans and people accompanying them, Risko said. People interested in attending may contact her (665-2909) or leave a message on the answering machine at the Legion post (875-2375).

Transportation will be available, if needed.

Wardens: With bears about, don't leave trash or birdfood out

By ALISON ALOISIO

A bear that paid an early morning visit Tuesday to the area of the Crescent Park Elementary School wasn't looking for an education. But his presence prompted game warden Steve Allarie to educate local residents on bear behavior.

Someone stopped in at the Bethel Police Department and said he had seen the bruin in woods not far from the school about 7 a.m., according to Police Chief Alan Carr.

At that time, there would not yet have been children at CPS. But Carr said he would notify school officials of the incident, and recommend children out at recess stay away from the wooded areas.

Allarie said bears are not typically aggressive, and should not generally pose a danger to area residents.

But, he said, this is the time of year the animals like to visit trash cans and birdfeeders in search of an easy meal. Their other favorite food, berries, are not available yet, and the bears will follow their keen sense of smell to whatever humans might inadvertently offer.

"When bears come out of hibernation, they're already eating for the next hibernation," he said.

This past Sunday, a bear (probably the same one, Allarie said) was spotted on Paradise Road in Bethel.

Allarie said it is best — for both bears and humans — if people keep their household trash inside, or take it immediately to the transfer sta-

Proposal floated for closing Church St. to through traffic

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Should car and truck traffic be eliminated on the section of Church Street that passes through the busy center of the Gould Academy campus?

Resident Jeff Parsons asked the town selectmen last week to consider such a possibility. Parsons said his request was spurred by an incident during the winter. In a letter to the selectmen he described the event as follows:

"Sometime in the middle of this last March, when snow banks were at their highest peaks, the ground still deeply frozen, and the air temperature struggling to climb out of the frozen numbers, I found myself driving up Church Street through the campus of Gould Academy. Ahead of me was a car bearing out-of-state plates, and just as we came abreast of the main buildings, a group of students emerged from behind the snow bank, and, paying little attention to rights of way, vehicles, or anything else, one stepped into the road.

"It was a nightmare coming to pass. Had it not been for some fleet-of-foot driving by the nippy car in front, a hasty and well-executed pirouette by the student (during which books and papers flew all over), and the lack of approaching cars that allowed the swerving car to cross well into the other lane, an accident would inevitably have occurred. But it reminded me that this situation is one I have long feared, especially so with three children having gone to Gould Academy, and one which could easily be averted."

Subdivision impact fees, moratorium under consideration in Greenwood

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Concerned that the rising tide of real estate development is eroding town finances, Greenwood officials are trying to come up with a way to ensure developers pay to offset what their projects cost town taxpayers.

Proposals currently under discussion range from charging impact fees for the approval of new subdivision lots, to a blanket six-month moratorium on such projects. Town selectmen and planners, as well as the road foreman, fire chief and code enforcement officer met last week to discuss the issue.

Subdivisions contribute financially to the town in terms of property taxes, but they also increase the cost of providing services such as solid-waste disposal and fire protection.

And the increased traffic they generate can take a heavy toll on town roads, especially when the subdivisions are built in areas served by roads that were not built to handle such traffic.

That's exactly where much of the current development in Greenwood has been targeted — along roads like the western, unpaved end of Howe Hill Road.

When the traffic from subdivisions builds up such roads demand more and more costly upkeep. And eventually the town faces the even-more-costly necessity of rebuilding them.

Road Foreman Alan Seames said that because of the current traffic level on Howe Hill Road, the Highway Department would soon have to begin grading the road

Opening of new Telstar track delayed

By ALISON ALOISIO

Plans to open the new track at Telstar High School have been delayed, at least for a brief time.

Completion of the project fell two layers of rubberized coating short last fall. SAD44 Supt. Dave Murphy told the School Board Monday.

He said district officials had still hoped the track might be usable this spring, but after consulting with the builders, "the recommendation is we not use it until it's finished," Murphy said.

A time frame for applying the final two layers will be discussed this week, he said. Four consecutive days of at least 60-degree weather are needed to proceed. The surface must then be striped.

"We're hopeful the kids can still be on it before the end of the season," Murphy said.

The general public will also be able to use the new

EDNA L. DUPONT

Edna Louise Dupont, 73, of Gilead, passed away on April 8, 2004 at Fort Myers, Fla.

She was born in Sawyer, Quebec, Canada, on May 15, 1930. She was a wonderful wife and mother. She loved her family very much and will be deeply missed. She enjoyed working at St. Vincent's Nursing Home in Berlin, N.H. for many years. After retirement, she volunteered there every Tuesday during the summer season.

She is survived by her husband of 56 years, Gerard Dupont of Gilead; a son, Andre Dupont and his wife Eileen of Gorham N.H.; a daughter, Lise Dupont McLain and her husband Stephen of Gilead; a daughter, Arlene Crockett of Portland; a daughter, Diane Bean and her husband John of Baker City, Ore.; and a son, Richard Dupont of Fort Myers, Fla.; a brother, Raymond Dion and his wife, Aline of Quebec City, Quebec, Canada; and a sister, Hermance Bolduc of Sherbrooke, Quebec, Canada. She was also blessed with 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

A memorial Mass will be held at the Holy Family Church, Gorham, N.H., on May 15 at 11 a.m. Interment will be at the Lark Cemetery in Gilead, followed by a buffet lunch sponsored by the Gilead Fire Department at the Town Hall, Gilead.

MAXINE D. WRIGHT

Maxine D. Wright, 93, of Bethel and formerly of Princeton, W.Va., died April 24, 2004 in Bethel.

Born in Lumpoc, Calif., March 11, 1911, the daughter of Walter and Alice (Mozier) Dodge, she was educated in schools in Chico, Calif., and graduated from high school in 1929. She also attended Chico State USC.

She was a music teacher in public schools for many years and later provided private instruction of piano for many years, retiring in 1993. She was a volunteer at the Bethel Historical Society, assisting in record keeping and filing, etc.

She was a member of the West Bethel Grange and the West Bethel Union Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Diana Dodge of Roseville, Calif., and Camilla Everett of West Bethel, with whom she had made her home for several years; one son, John Woolsey of Chico, Calif.; eight grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandchild; and several nieces and nephews.

Memorial services were held at the West Bethel Union Church on Saturday, May 1, with the Rev. Earle Bell officiating. Burial will be at Rose-lawn Cemetery in Princeton, W.Va. Contributions in her memory may be made to Chapel Aid Society, West Bethel Union Church, West Bethel 04286.

SOLSTICE SCULPTURE RACE

To the Editor:

On Sunday, June 20, at noon, the streets of Bethel will be the track for the third annual Summer Solstice Sculpture Race. Artists, artisans, students and sculpture buffs, craftsmen, tinkers, ironworkers, welders, woodworkers, sculptors, engineers, and creative people of all persuasions are encouraged to create art to race.

There will be five prizes: Fastest, Most Aesthetically Pleasing, Most Mechanically Ingenious, and Most humorous; and an "under 12" division for kids. Prizes will include trophies created by Master Potter Woody Hughes.

What is a sculpture race? Moving art. Kinetic, original, creative, competitive, fun, and a great spectacle for onlookers. The criteria for sculpture entries are:

- Human powered (no motors, batteries, solar cells, windmills, sails, or other means of propulsion other than human)
- Must move: roll, walk or run
- Pushed, pedaled, pulled or otherwise (not dragged or carried)
- Must incorporate wheels, legs or other means of movement
- Not floats, bicycles, wagons, or pre-manufactured wheeled vehicles or devices (You have to make it.)
- Created and raced by individuals or teams
- Use of recycled materials and "found objects" is encouraged
- May not be existing sculpture, must be newly created
- Sculptures may not contain advertising.
- Height limit: under 13 feet, 6 inches (state law) (watch out for the power lines)
- Width limit: 8 feet, 6 inches (state law)

Entry fee: $10, payable to "Midsummer Festival," postmarked by June 10. More info and entry forms are available on-line at www.midsummerfestival.org or e-mail: www.midsummerfestival.org You can request forms by mail from Midsummer Festival, P.O. Box 2104, Bethel, ME 04217, or call 824-3246 or 824-3170.

The Summer Solstice Sculpture Race will be followed by the Midsummer Festival, featuring music, medieval knights in armor, crafts, Morris dancers, and more, for the whole family. It is sponsored in part by the Mahoosuc Arts Council.

PATHWAY VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

To the Editor:

Bethel Pathway gardening work is about to get started again. In the past two years, with a lot of volunteer help, the Conservation Commission has created gardens at each end of the Pathway.

We still need volunteers in the next two or three weeks to help clean up the existing gardens, prune the rose hedge by the playground, and re-mulch the gardens. Through the summer we'll need help with watering eight new trees that have been planted this week.

If you are willing to lend a hand to this community project, please call me at 824-0508. We'll try to set up the work periods to accommodate your schedule.

TELSTAR 1994 REUNION

To the Editor:

Telstar's Class of 1994 ten-year reunion will be held this summer on Friday, July 16. Do pass the word along to those classmates who may no longer live in the area.

Everyone is asked to bring a dish to share — burgers/dogs/salad will be provided.

The reunion will run from 5 to 9 p.m. and will be held in the barn at 508 North Road, in Bethel.

Spouses, a significant other, or a guest are welcome.

Please RSVP if you are coming by calling 824-7259. Look forward to seeing you there.

WOODLAND CEMETERY MEETING

To the Editor:

Anyone interested in the care and maintenance of one of Bethel's most historic cemeteries is urged to attend the annual meeting of the Woodland Cemetery Company at my house, 18 Broad Street, Bethel, on Monday, May 17, 7 p.m.

Among the most famous citizens of those buried in this Bethel cemetery are Dr. Nathaniel T. True, founder of Gould Academy; Dr. Moses Mason, U.S. Congressman from Maine; Hon. David Hammons, also a U. S. Congressman from Maine; Ernest Skinner, great American organ builder; Dr. John G. and Marian True Gehring, who once operated a clinic at the end of Broad Street that attracted clients from many parts of the United States; and Clark Edwards, commander of the 5th Maine during the Civil War.

Various reports will be heard as well as plans for the future will be discussed.

NAME IT FOR 'MUSH', OR THE TOWN CAN GO TO HELL

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the article in the Bethel Citizen on "Name that Fire Station." I would like to thank Fire Chief Jim Young and past fire department members for a splendid idea of naming the new fire station after Roderick "Mush" McMillin.

Being born and raised in Bethel over 60 years ago, I can attest to the many things Mush did for the Bethel youth and senior citizens. Now, as to the Bethel selectmen, I don't know which planet they were born and raised on. Their statement, and I quote, "broader public comment would be appropriate and politically prudent," sounds like a Flatlander speaking. For us that do have some common sense, the Bethel selectmen are a work of art.

Let me refresh the public's memory on a few of the major blunders they have seen fit to back. First, the train station and shopping mall project. Second, the Olympic size swimming pool (frog pond) on the North Road. In fact, the town could have had the beach out at Songo Pond if the selectmen had made a few concessions to the owner. Lastly, the Police Department fiasco sounded like a dog and pony act to me.

All of the above-mentioned examples have cost the taxpayers money. Does the old saying, "The blind leading the sheep," ring a bell. If the town doesn't name the new fire station after Mush, then the town of Bethel can go to hell.

Delma F. McMillin
Bethel

(Clarification: The quotation "broader public comment would be appropriate and politically prudent" is from the news article's summary of the selectmen's discussion. The statement is not — and was not presented in the article — as a direct quotation from any of the selectmen. —MRD)

BFD COMMUNITY CALENDARS

To the Editor:

Again this year, our 33rd consecutive year, the Bethel Fire Department membership will be selling community calendars. If you are interested and have not been contacted, please call 824-2627 and leave your name and telephone number; a member of the department will be in touch.

Profits from this endeavor go to purchase items not on the town budget.

THANKS FROM THE MOVIE'S ANIMAL TEAM

To the Editor:

To the residents of Bethel and the surrounding areas: The animal team of the movie "The 12 Dogs of Christmas" says, "Thank you, thank you, thank you!"

We arrived in Bethel on March 17, and for several days the animal team worked to find a way to provide the animals required for the film. Usually, this would involve months of preparation — carefully selecting the proper animals and training them to perform the desired behaviors on cue, at a distance, and in the demanding environs of a movie set. In this case, we were called days before filming began and had little time to secure the huge number of specific breeds required to tell the complex animal story. There was neither budget nor schedule to fly in professional, experienced, set-savvy animals, so we needed to utilize local pets to fill more than one hundred canine roles, and local dog trainers to wrangle them.

On March 19, we held a giant casting session for dogs, and made a remarkable discovery — over a hundred wonderful people arrived with their wonderful pets. Most of these people were willing to commit their time, their energy, and their spirit to help make our movie.

It was this remarkable spirit that really made this movie possible. Everywhere we turned in Bethel there were kind and generous people who helped our crew at every opportunity. People loaned us whatever we needed, made us feel welcome, gave us directions, drove hours to bring their dogs to the set, and waited endlessly into the nights for no reason other than authentic kindness.

The magic of making movies is obvious in today's special effects and fantastic scenes, but the real magic is something far more powerful. It is what took place in Bethel — people helping each other to achieve something extraordinary.

For welcoming us into your town and sharing with us the joyful kindness of your community we thank you from the bottoms of our hearts.

Church St.

been raised in the past, said Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen and associate head of school at Gould.

Closing off the street would make Church Street more pedestrian friendly, Dresser said.

"From the Gould perspective it would be wonderful," he said, but he also acknowledged: "I can't imagine there's lots of support in town for that."

Besides the likelihood of political resistance in town to closing off a well-used route, there are other obstacles to Parsons' suggestion.

For one, Church Street is a state-aid road (see below), not a town road, so any route to closing part of it would have to pass through the halls of the Maine Department of Transportation.

And even if closed, the road would still need to be kept open in some manner for emergency vehicles and deliveries, especially to the academy dining hall.

Then there is the matter of possible alternative traffic routes also being less than ideal.

"If you close off Church Street," said Becky Kendall, "they'll use Elm Street, which is even more of a disaster."

Selectman Reggie Brown noted that the safety situation at Gould was not as bad as that at Fryeburg Academy.

"Those kids cross 302," Brown said. "It's scary — and they make a point not to look."

Dresser said Gould makes safety a priority, but to limited effect.

"We talk to the kids virtually every day about looking before they get out in the road," he said, "and da, da, da, da. You know what that's worth."

Is a state road

Until a few years ago, Church Street was designated as part of state Route 5.

That designation was moved to Lovers Lane when that road was rebuilt, and as a result there was uncertainty at last week's meeting that Church Street was still classified as a state road.

"If it is," Dresser said, "the question is: 'What is the task of changing it — is that a doable thing?' Then the next question is: 'Is there any chance the local political landscape would allow you to do it, even if you could do it?'"

The selectmen agreed to look further into the matter.

Contacted later in the week by The Citizen, MDOT engineer Norman Haggan checked his files and confirmed Church Street is still classified as a state-aid road.

If the town wished to have part of the road closed to traffic, he said, it could petition MDOT to do so.

Such a plan would probably include turning the road over to the town, he said, because it would no longer function as a collector road.

Greenwood

weekly.

And rebuilding it, he said, would probably cost $150,000.

There was general agreement at last week's meeting that some form of impact fee would be a logical solution to the problem, but there was no consensus on how to set a fee, or fee schedule.

The town's Subdivision Ordinance currently says the board "may" charge a developer a fee when it determines a subdivision will force the town to spend money — for example, by rebuilding a road.

The developers, said

Seames, "are the ones who are putting the traffic on the roads, so they are the ones who should be paying."

But the ordinance does not specify a fee schedule, and Planning Board member Hannalore Horn said planners needed more specific guidance.

There was discussion of how a fee schedule could be established, and of whether or not the fees should be fixed or determined on a case-by-case basis.

The idea was also floated of a subdivision moratorium, in order to give the town time to develop and codify new rules.

CEO John Gauthier said it would take six months for the town to get an enforceable ordinance in place.

Following an hour of discussion, it was clear the officials needed more information before tackling the problem.

"I think we've got to do some thinking on this," said Fred Henderson, chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

The group agreed to gather more information and to meet again at the next regular selectmen's meeting, on Monday, May 17 at 5 p.m. The meeting is open to the public.

Directors OK school budget

ANDOVER — The SAD44 School Board Monday unanimously approved a $9.3 million general fund budget and a $222,000 Adult Education budget. Administrators cut about $25,000 from the general fund budget after learning the state Legislature recently reduced state aid to education. Supt. Dave Murphy said the district will not hire a part-time math instructor for Telstar High School, as originally planned. Instead, additional math classes will be taught next year by a teacher from the Science Department. A public hearing on the budget will take place May 24 at 7 p.m. at the Telstar library. The district-wide referendum is scheduled for June 8. If approved, the budgets would increase the average local assessment by 4.85 percent.

Special Town Meeting

GILEAD — Gilead will hold a special Town Meeting Saturday, May 22 at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall to vote on whether to establish a Planning Board. If approved, the board would have five members and two alternates. Town officials said if the board is established, volunteers will be needed to serve, and anyone interested should call 836-2032.

Pavement test on Route 2

BETHEL — Pavement tests on US Route 2 in Bethel will restrict traffic flow in that area on Wednesday, May 19, according to the Maine Department of Transportation. "A section of pavement on Route 2, between Bethel and North Bethel, was designated as a test area for a federal long-term pavement performance test," explains Bill Thompson of Maine DOT's Transportation Research section. "Part of that test includes periodic testing of the pavement to see how well it is holding up under weather and traffic conditions. This section is among numerous sections in the United States and Canada that have been monitored since the 1980s. 'The 500-foot-long test area is in the eastbound lane of Route 2, about one mile from the Androscoggin River bridge as you head from Bethel toward Newry,'" Thompson explains. "Drivers should expect lane restrictions in that area between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on Wednesday, the 19th. We'll do our best to maintain one lane of traffic in each direction." He urged drivers to use caution approaching and passing through the test area. "Drivers will see people and equipment in the roadway, along with signs and traffic cones. We urge drivers to slow down and use caution for their own safety as well as the safety of people working in the roadway," he explained. Thompson says no rain date has been set in case of bad weather. "If we have to cancel the test on the 19th due to bad weather, we'll reschedule for some time in the future and the new date will be announced," he concluded.

Tri-Town gets ambulance grant

WEST PARIS — Tri-Town Ambulance and Emergency Rescue Services of West Paris will receive a $2,645 grant to help purchase a new ambulance, according to U.S. senators Olympia Snowe and Susan Collins. The funding comes from the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture Rural Development program. Tri-Town received a $33,600 federal grant last year and was responsible for raising $68,300 toward the total cost of the new ambulance. Tri-Town provides emergency medical services to West Paris, Greenwood, Woodstock, Milton Plantation and Sumner.

Pet Fest planned for fairgrounds

OXFORD — Pet Fest 2004 will take place May 22 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Oxford County Fair Grounds. Many animal rescue organizations are expected to send representatives. The purpose of the event is to educate people about the importance of animal shelters and rescues, according to organizers. There will also be rabies and microchip clinics, and vendor displays for pet products and health services. Other activities include an agility course, police K-9 demonstrations, contests for pet costumes and canine "good citizen," a raffle and evaluations by an animal behaviorist and communicator. In addition, the television show "Animal Planet" from the Discovery Channel is expected to hold auditions for its show "Pet Star," which is primarily seeking 'stupid pet tricks'. Pets brought to the festival must be on a leash.

Telstar Spring Concert

BETHEL — The sixth annual Spring Concert of the Telstar Music Department will take place Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Telstar in the Helen Berry Auditorium. The TMS Chorus and Band, THS Chorus, Concert Band, and Jazz Band will perform. Jennifer Bennett will conduct the high school musicians, and Tom Coolidge the middle school. Admission is free, but donations are appreciated.

Turkey hunter wounded

CANTON — Steven Wills, 51, of Canton was seriously wounded Tuesday while he was hunting turkeys on his property with a friend. Wills was shot in the face and chest with bird shot from a distance of about 40 yards. He was shot by George Jamison, 70, of Canton. Wills was airlifted to Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston, where he was in serious condition Tuesday. Game wardens were uncertain whether there would be any charges. Maine has a target identification law requiring hunters to be sure what they are shooting at. Jamieson said he saw a turkey and shot at it, but struck Wills.

Local man sentenced for OUI

MACHIAS — A 50-year-old Lovell man was sentenced to 54 months in prison after he was convicted of drunken driving for the eighth time. Wesley Hewey, who had 15 previous criminal convictions to his record, pleaded guilty last Friday in Washington County Superior Court. Justice Allen Hunter sentenced him to 54 months with the Department of Corrections and suspended his license for six years. Hewey was arrested in August, 2002 on Route 9 in Washington County. Hewey eluded authorities for several months after he was indicted in April, 2003. He had provided the name of his uncle at the time of his arrest, and a warrant was issued for his uncle. Hewey has been in the Machias jail since his arrest in September. At Friday's hearing, Hewey pleaded guilty to aggravated forgery and was given an additional 18 months in prison on top of the 54 months. "You tried to undermine the authority of the government," Hunter told him. "And while you are accepting responsibility and entering a plea, this is a separate and distinct criminal activity." Hewey also received a sentence of 24 months, to run concurrently with the 54 months, for being an habitual offender, the fifth time he has been convicted of that charge. Hewey's attorney, Norman Tofflon, argued for probation, saying his client could get better treatment for his problems outside of prison. But Paul Cavanaugh, the assistant district attorney handling the case, said, "He continues to drink and drive. He has not been getting the message about probation."

From the Bethel Police Log:

Bear question answered

At 7:29 a.m. on May 9 police received a report of a bear in a backyard on Paradise Road. The animal had knocked over two bird feeders. The Warden Service was notified, and local residents were advised to secure any food sources or bird feeders. The bear was last seen headed into the woods with a roll of toilet paper, reported the officer, "which answers another important question."

Saturday, May 8

At 12:14 a.m. police arrested Darren R. Gilmour, 31, of Standish and charged him with OUI and OAS.

Sunday, May 9

At 1:36 a.m. police were investigating a vehicle off the Grover Hill Road when two four-wheelers went by at a high rate of speed, heading toward Bethel on the Grover Hill Road. The officer tried to stop the vehicles, which reached a top speed of 70 mph. Contact was lost when they went onto a trail into the woods.

At 6:32 p.m. police received a report of loud noises coming from an unoccupied residence. The officer found everything secure, but noticed the screen door on a sliding glass door was ripped in several places, leading to speculation it might have been a bear.

Monday, May 10

At 2:20 p.m. police received a report of a mountain bike stolen from a village location.

tion. And, he said, until berry season arrives birdwatchers should try to resist the urge to feed their feathered friends.

If people must fill their feeders (and that includes hummingbird feeders), Allarie recommends they only do it during the afternoon, when bears are most likely to be sleeping.

If property owners find themselves with a continuing bear problem they shouldn't shoot the animal, he said.

Instead, call the Warden Service through the State Police in Gray (800-228-0857), or, if more immediate assistance is needed, contact Bethel police through the Oxford County Sheriff's Department (743-9554).

Allarie said it takes cooperation among neighbors to keep a bear away — if only one person is keeping trash or a birdfeeder outside, everyone else may continue to expect unannounced visits.

To drive off a stubborn bear, wardens may fire off "cracker shells," which make a loud noise, or call in hunting dogs to chase it away. As a last resort, the wardens may live trap the bear and transport it 70 to 100 miles away, Allarie said.

The registry is a computer archive. Anyone wishing to register a veteran may pick up a form to fill out at the Bethel, Newry, Woodstock or Greenwood town offices, according to Risko and Jeri Brooks Greenwell of the Mundt-Allen Post.

Greenwell said about 300 forms for Bethel and Gilead veterans have already been submitted.

She will attend the Washington dedication, and will also make a symbolic presentation of a list of the names during a Candlelight Walk-a-thon May 28 in Washington.

For more information about the registry, contact Greenwell at 824-2532 or Risko.

Information can also be found at the Web site www.wviiimemorial.com.

facility when it opens, but the grassy infield area will still be off limits for several months, he said.

A formal dedication of the track is expected to take place this fall.

Priscilla

POINTING THE WAY—Telstar senior Priscilla Thurston leads a group of teens in a game at a recent leadership retreat at Camp Susan Curtis in Stoneham. After a decade as a camper, Priscilla is now a full counselor. CSC, now in its 30th year, is operated by the Susan Curtis Foundation, a non-profit charitable organization named for the daughter of former Gov. Kenneth Curtis, who died from cystic fibrosis.

busy with activities. And, she said, "I had some great counselors."

Hooked, Priscilla came back every summer for six years. She swam, boated, did arts and crafts.

Her favorite activity was an improvisation game called "Challenge." "I loved it," she said.

The regular summer experience and the friends she made provided stability in her young life.

But things almost derailed after eighth grade. That summer, for family reasons, she was unable to attend camp.

It hit her hard, she said, and carried over into her freshman year of high school.

"I hit rock bottom," she said. "I only earned one credit."

But thanks to a persistent effort by the camp staff, she was able to return after her sophomore year. Connected again with friends and supporters, she never looked back.

"It was a total turnaround in my life," she said.

She improved her grades. And she got more involved in school, joining the AIDS Awareness Committee, FACT (a freshman orientation program) and the Big Brothers Big Sisters program. She also became co-president of her class for her junior and senior years.

"I went from being a troublemaker to a trouble-fixer," said Priscilla.

Since ninth grade, she also went from camper at CSC to counselor-in-training, to junior counselor, to full counselor.

In addition to cabin counselor or for 8-year-olds, she is CSC's performing arts and theater director, writing a new play for every two-week summer session, and directing 30 campers in each production.

She's also one of the camp's biggest promoters — both through her own words and by the example of her experience.

Priscilla talks up the camp to other Bethel area youngsters. "I start telling them about the activities," she said, and how getting involved at the camp takes them away from problems at home.

And she asks the kids about their interests. The camp experience, she said, "can be individualized for each kid. They can set their own schedule."

She often tells them they will more than likely make a "best friend" during a camping session. And with strong continuity of both staff and campers from year-to-year, it builds an ongoing support system for each youngster, just as it did for her.

"They're more likely to come back, because they have a strong bond," she said.

Pat Carson is the director of Camp Susan Curtis. Priscilla, he said, is a valuable source of inspiration for other kids.

"She brings an energy that is contagious," he said. "It translates to the kids. She cares. She wants to see every kid be able to make it like she did, and not let circumstance dictate what their lives will be."

"Although her childhood and teen years had struggles, in the end she has had numerous support systems, both at camp and in Bethel, that have helped her persevere and move closer to achieving her dreams."

In the fall, Priscilla plans to pursue a degree at UMF in early childhood education/child developmental psychology. Eventually, she wants to work in other programs that provide a "respite place" for children, "like the kids have at camp."

She has earned enough scholarship awards to pay for four years of school.

Her college studies will continue to bring her back to the camp for the summers, working simultaneously as a paid counselor and an intern in her major.

And she will continue to serve as a role model for many campers to come. It's a natural role.

"I was in their shoes," she said.

the little things that matter...

The child sees the ocean rushing toward her, she anticipates the icy sting of Maine's water on her feet, and screams with pure delight as the frigid surf tickles her toes. These are the little things that matter most in our lives. And while great rates and fair deals are important, at Norway Savings Bank we also take care of the "little things," like knowing your name, offering a warm smile and a friendly handshake. It's about doing the right thing. So if you're looking for a great home equity rate, why not take advantage of that... and so much more? Because in reality, we believe that little things really do matter.

Bethel

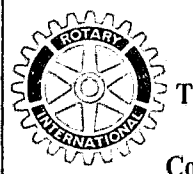

by Virginia Keniston
Howard Cole was honored on his 90th birthday on Sunday, May 9, with a cookout at daughter Nancy Farmer's home on Crockett Ridge in Norway. Twenty-eight family members were present ranging in age from five months to 90 years.

The Myers family enjoyed Mother's Day Brunch at the Bethel Inn on Sunday, May 9. Attending were Polly Myers, Bill and Vicky Myers, Glenn and Erica Myers, Mary Myers, Dan, Kelly Justyne and Jessika Myers, Barbara Brown, Sue and Charlie Kettinger and Andy and Kathy Bartlett. Barbara Brown was celebrating her 90th birthday and Polly Myers will celebrate her 90th in July.

Pauline Wieden of Madison, formerly of Bethel, recently underwent surgery and has now returned to her home. Sonny Bean and daughter, Llonah Mahar, have returned from Phoenix, Ariz., where he visited his son, Mark, who was in critical condition after being hit by a drunken driver. Mark's friend was killed in the accident.

Avery Angevine is at home recovering from recent knee surgery. Mary and Chuck Millard of Bristol, R.I., were at their home on Chapman Street for the weekend.

Jack and Merry Harkins and Vicky Robertson of

7:30 AM
Tuesdays at
The Bethel Inn
on the Common, Bethel

Brunswick were weekend visitors of Betty and Henry Robertson.

Dot York was honored with brunch on Mother's Day by her children: Sharon Kaiser of Farmington, N.H.; David, Betsy and family and Betsy's mother, Kitty Smith; Barbara, Shawna and Tricia.

Kathleen Trinward graduated summa cum laude with a degree in chemical engineering from UMO on May 8. An All-Maine Woman, Sorority Woman of the Year, Student Council vice president, and Programmer of the Year, she was voted Outstanding Student Leader. She has been accepted at Vermont Law School where she will study environmental law this fall. Kate is the eldest daughter of Pam and John Trinward of Waterville and granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Trinward of Waterville.

Leora and Kayla Greenleaf from Denmark, with friends Kate and Megan, were weekend guests of Ann and Eldon Greenleaf.

Eleanor Jodrey's sister, Ellen, has arrived to be with her parents, Stan and Elizabeth Lord, for five weeks.

There will be an annual meeting of the Woodland Cemetery Company at Stanley Howe's residence, Broad Street, on Monday, May 17 at 7 p.m.

Amy Davis attended an Oxford Hills Alive Chorale Concert at the South Paris Congregational Church on Friday

May 7. Michael Davis was a member of the concert.

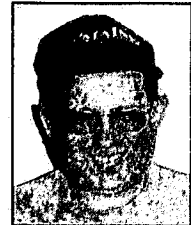

Mary Keniston joined her daughter, Donna Rice-Howe of Waterville, to attend a birthday party for her great-granddaughter, Kaylea Howe, daughter of Chip and Barbara Howe in Scarborough. On Sunday morning her son, Don Rice of Waterville, called for a visit.

George and Danna Nickerson and Randy Bennett attended the Graduate and Student Recognition Ceremony at USM's Lewiston-Auburn college Friday evening. Kate Nickerson Dumais, who will graduate from USM on May 15, with a BS in Leadership and Organizational Studies, was acknowledged for her admission to the Phi Kappa Phi honor society.

Danna Brown Nickerson was "kidnapped" by her daughter Kate (with the help of Randy Bennett) on Saturday for a Mother's Day outing. The two went for Angel Readings at Market Smart Natural Food and Holistic Vision in Gray and then continued on for some shopping for themselves and their gardens before meeting up with their men folk at Kate's home in Livermore for dinner.

Kurt and Tammy Brown of Westbrook visited with his mother, Arlene Brown, on Mother's Day. They called on George and Danna Nickerson.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester
The Hanover Volunteer Clean Up Day was last Saturday. The crew started raking and picking up branches and litter at the Town Office and the Androscoggin River boat ramp. After that they went to the Town House and cleaned up all around the tennis court. Then it was lunchtime, so everyone returned to the town office for cheeseburgers, red hot dogs, pasta salad, and coleslaw, along with cold soda and water. After lunch the crews split up, some doing yard work at Herb and Ruth Kittredge's house on Brown Road and the rest working at the cemetery. In a day's time a lot of cleaning up got done in Hanover. Those participating were Bruce Powell, Brenda Lee Gross, Bob Fortin, John and Irene Kutcha, Kelly and Michael Crockett assisted by Keith, Victoria and Kory, Clem Worcester, four inmates from Oxford County Jail and their leader, and Donna Worcester with Kaylyn, who helped with the food.

The new Hanover Post Office is progressing. The building is up and surrounded with house wrap and a tarpaper roof. The roofing blew off once during a bad storm and had to be replaced. The contractor is now waiting for the electrical, heat and plumbing subcontractors to get their parts done before the building is completed.

Barbara Kaulback has left her Hanover home and moved to Rumford. She is living with her daughter, Bonnie Black. Barbara had been in ill health last year. She will be missed by her longtime neighbors.

There have been sightings! Those cowardly folks who sneak off to warmer climates and leave all of us to brave the long, cold winter all alone are beginning to show up. Warren and Marcia Stearns and Richard and Barbara Burns have been reported as being home, with others on the way.

The Hanover Selectboard will meet Monday, May 17 at 5 p.m. at the Town Office.

Moose and deer have been seen on Main Street. Tim Lucas reports the bear have been rattling his garbage cans at night. Porcupines have been ambling by.

Mothers were honored in most households on Sunday. Gail Worcester had visits from her sons, Mike, Brad with Amanda and Daren with Fran.

East Bethel

by Nancy Mercer

The East Bethel Church Association will hold its annual meeting on May 24 at the church at 7 p.m.

The East Bethel Cemetery clean-up day is May 22 starting at 9 a.m., with a rain date of May 23.

We would appreciate young bodies to help with the clean-up. After the work is done there will be sandwiches and coffee or punch.

Judy Smith of Bucksport visited Arlene Harrington on May 8 and 9.

Carl and Dori Hallman and daughter Whitney of Durham visited Arlene Harrington on May 9.

Jack and Tricia Chappie had Tricia's mother of Rumford and two brothers and a sister for visitors on May 9.

Recently, Tricia Chappie took Albert Foster for a ride up to Pooh Corner for a look at all the plants and flowers. Have a nice week.

NOTICE

The Annual Meeting of the Bethel Riverside Cemetery Association will be held at the Bethel Family Health Center May 19, 2004 at 7:30pm. Any person owning a lot is automatically a member of the Association and is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

According to an article in the paper the other day the College Board has announced a new version of the SAT test. This doesn't have a lot of impact on my life other than my being grateful that I don't have to take the test. But, I do sympathize with the students who will be faced with the decision to take the old test in the fall, which doesn't have a timed essay, or wait until spring and take the new test, which does.

The article stated that most colleges will be focused on the new test, but some will evaluate the scores on the old test. Many students feel that the old test is easier so this leaves them in a bit of a quandary. As I said, I'm just glad I don't have to take either one.

SAT tests have been given to college-bound students for many years and are used as part of the overall evaluation by colleges and universities in determining the acceptance of students.

I happen to come across some of the SAT questions and answers from the tests given to a group of 16-year-old students in Springdale, Arkansas in 2000. I thought you might enjoy reading some of them. I can tell you that the answers on some of the questions will leave you wondering if some of these kids are incredibly stupid or incredibly ingenious.

Q: Name the four seasons. A: Salt, pepper, mustard and vinegar. I think I would have said nutmeg and cinnamon instead of mustard and vinegar, but maybe that's a cultural difference.

Q: Explain one of the processes by which water can be made safe to drink. A: Flirtation makes water safe to drink because it removes large pollutants like grit, sand, dead sheep and canoeists. Again, it may be a cultural difference.

Q: How is dew formed? A: The sun shines down on the leaves and makes them perspire. You know, I always wondered about that.

Q: What is a planet? A: A body of earth surrounded by sky. Good answer!

Q: What causes the tides in the ocean? A: The tides are a fight between the earth and the moon. All water tends to flow towards the moon because there is no water on the moon and nature abhors a vacuum. I forget where the sun joins the fight. This student knows a lot more about tides and the moon than I do so no remarks here.

Q: In a democratic society, how important are elections? A: Very important. Sex can only happen when a male gets an election. I wonder what Monica Lewinski's answer would have been to this question.

Q: What are steroids? A: A thing for keeping carpets still on the stairs. I haven't seen these at the Home Depot.

Q: What happens to your body as you age? A: When you get old, so do your bowels and you get intercontinental. Boy, I can hardly wait to get a little older, I always wanted to travel.

Q: What happens to a boy when he reaches puberty? A: He says good-bye to his boyhood and looks forward to his adultery. Remember, these are actual answers to SAT's.

Q: Name a major disease associated with cigarettes. A: Premature death. This kid probably went on to Med School.

Q: How can you delay milk turning sour? A: Keep it in the cow. This would have been my answer.

Q: How are the main parts of the body categorized? A: The body is consisted into three parts - the brainium, the borax and the abdominal cavity. The brainium contains the brain, the borax contains the heart and lungs, and the abdominal cavity contains the five bowels, A, E, I, O and U. I hope this kid didn't go on to Med School.

Q: What is the Fibula? A: A small lie. Don't you just love this one?

Q: What does "varicose" mean? A: Nearby. That's what I thought too.

Q: What is the most common form of birth control? A: Most people prevent contraception by wearing a condominium. Again, this could be a cultural difference.

Q: What is a terminal illness? A: When you are sick at the airport. What can I say, it sounds right.

Q: What does the word "benign" mean? A: Benign is what you will be after you be eight. Well!

Some of these are pretty funny, but I'm sure for the students taking the test there was very little humor. Making college plans, taking tests and going through the whole application process is very stressful on the students and their families and I think the SAT's really don't show the best side of most kids. I'd hate to think that my future rests on SAT's. I think I have a better idea for a college acceptance standard. If the applicant can get through the Financial Aid part of the application without the college asking for more information, than they should automatically be accepted, because the way I see it, that is a lot harder than any test the kids will ever take.

A belated thank you to all the mothers. We hope their special day was a happy one. Sue Angevine was honored by her extended family with a Mother's Day picnic. I am not a mother, but Pok Sun Lane always makes me feel like one with a lovely surprise. Thank you, good friend.

The hummingbirds arrived on Ginny Williamson's 80th birthday, May the 8th. Get your feeders up the little guys are here.

It has been a very busy week in Upton, as I'm sure in all of Oxford County. It does your heart good to see all those happy rakers and hoers doing spring chores after that less-than-loved winter.

Roger Lavallee, Larry Nelson and Paul Casey opened the boating season. Buster reassured them that the fish, (and black flies) were biting. He also said that the ice floes had dissipated. We were the recipients of a smoked trout that he prepared. Emeril Lagasse could do no better.

Earl and Lucille Largesse arrived home from a winter in Arizona to find the moose well ensconced in the wallow across the road from their house on Route 26.

Joy Yarnell has returned from Grand Cayman Island where she spent a wonderful vacation with her family. They spent the two weeks snorkeling, scuba diving and bathing in the Caribbean. Joy became quite proficient in snorkeling and has promised to snorkel down the Dead Cambridge River as soon as it warms up. (It never does!)

Congratulations to the children and grandchildren who attained honors at SAD44. We are very proud of them.

Liz and Walter Stanczyk attended the marriage of their only daughter, Theresa, to Terry Irish. The affair was held in Newport, R.I. Relatives and friends from several states attended. We wish them a happy future together.

Wilma Rector is again involved in the American Cancer Society's Walkathon, which will be held in Rumford on May 21 and 22. All donations should be directed to, Wilma Rector, East "B" Hill, Upton, ME 04261.

John Aron, our faithful school bus driver, dodges moose and turkeys quite frequently on the drive to SAD44.

"Fur, Fins, and Feathers: Wildlife in the Androscoggin Watershed," a conference presented by the Androscoggin Watershed Council, will be held on May 14 at the Bethel Conference Center. Paul Casey, Umbagog Wildlife Refuge manager and others will speak on the "Wildlife Management of Public Lands."

The Umbagog Heritage Committee will hold a meeting on Thursday, May 13, at 6:30 p.m. in the Errol Town Hall.

Several people have spotted rose breasted grosbeaks at their feeders. The Canada geese are nesting and honking. All manner of ducks are in the cove. The blue heron glides over the area and Mother Robin is in "confinement."

The best news on the lake is the return to the same location of a loon with a radio transmitter attached. We all hope she will be a successful mother again this year.

Next week keep your eyes open. The warbler migration through the North Country will occur as it has for time eternal. All those wonderful warblers are the "Birds of the Week."

Last but not least, I regret to report the loss of three wonderful women and friends, Connie Gagnon, Helen Donato and Penny Poor. These women contributed a great deal to making this a better world. They will be sadly missed.

Another week and time is going fast, doesn't seem like it is

May already. Leaves are coming out fast. My white lilacs are budding. I have a lot of birds now. I got a bag of parrot food and mixed it with the other seed. They really like it, as a lot of it is fruit.

My daughter, Lillian Strait, came up Saturday from Pownall. We took a ride to Gorham, N.H. A nice day for a ride.

My son, Ray Curtis, called on me and son, Carl Curtis and his daughter, Teresa, and her children came also.

Tim Curtis was here, as well as Marie and Albert. Marie went over to see her sister, Rose Henderson, Monday at Hartford. Rosie has been in the hospital for an operation. Marie also visited her parents, Tom and Iva Bragg, at Summer.

Teresa Grenier's children visited their grandparents, Carol and Betty Curtis, for a few days.

Ann Holt went to Portland Friday and stayed with her friend, Nancy Hutton. Saturday, Ann had to go to be fingerprinted, as the work she does requires it. Sunday, Ann went down and brought her Aunt Colista up to the farm for dinner with them at Leonas and Fay Holt's. Ann and David joined them.

A thought to remember: "Good decisions come from the heart more often than from the brain."

Have a safe and happy week.

We hope that all of the mothers out there enjoyed a lovely day with their family.

Members of our chapter went to the Veterans' Home in South Paris for a bike show. There was quite a crowd there to donate their time and money for the home. It was interesting to see some of the bikes that were entered in the show — from antiques to stock to dressers, a lot of nice looking bikes.

This is the weekend that Lorrie Hoeh will be participating in the Avon Breast Cancer Walk in Boston. This is an extremely worthwhile cause, one that definitely deserves support. You can still sponsor her by contacting Lorrie directly, or sending a donation to Avon Breast Cancer Walk, 577 Massachusetts Avenue, 2nd Floor, Cambridge, MA 02129; or by going onto the Web to www.avonwalk.org, click on donate, click on Boston, type in Dolores Hoeh 501134, click on find a walker/crew member, click on Lorrie's name, click on click here to support me (pink banner over the thermometer) and follow prompts. While you're on the Web site, take a look at her Web page. There you will see that her personal goal of $5,000 has been exceeded and is still rising. We wish her the very best in her walk.

Dana was out chopping at the old apple tree when Bud walked over from across the street and told Dana about how he had cut away much of the tree about 15 years ago. Right now the tree is looking a bit small, but, it looks so much nicer with all the dead parts cut away. We're just hoping for some lovely blossoms (there are already a lot of buds all over) and perhaps enough apples for a jar or two of jelly; (well, maybe not this year, but, hopefully within the next year or two). In clearing around the property, we've discovered a multitude of the irises that we love so much as well as many other varieties of flowers and plant life. We're happy about that, as in the move and subsequent winter we were afraid, we wouldn't have many flowers this season to bloom on our property. Well, it appears that the hill has an abundance of flowers and plant life that is simply amazing. The Santines below us always have a gorgeous wildflower garden growing on the church side of their property, and they have, in the past, let the Sunday School students walk through the blooming maze during the hot months of summer.

On June 5, our chapter, and others of CMA chapters around Maine, will be participating in the Ride Against Hunger in Auburn on behalf of the Good Shepherd Food Bank. Through its network throughout Maine, this organization feeds upwards to 65,000 families. We will be participating in the ride and are looking for anyone who wishes to sponsor us. Also, anyone who wants to participate in the ride itself can do so. The entry fee is $10 per rider and all monies raised go directly to the Food Bank. You should be seeing flyers going up around town fairly soon.

Word from Dotty Duddy is that the beavers on Hutchinson Pond are busy expanding their lodge on the east side of the pond. They have felled fourteen trees so far on the East Side of the pond at Sunny Hours. After notifying LURC, Dotty was informed that the beavers are basically protected and she should call the warden. The game warden suggested that she contact someone who works with the state to relocate the beavers. The trappers can relocate the beavers, or if all fails drown them. After weighing both possibilities she has decided to let the beavers have their way and gnaw on. They certainly have created another beach area, which would not be possible otherwise.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

West Paris

by Bertha DeHaas

What a wonderful evening we all had Saturday night when the mixed trio from New Brunswick Bible Institute came to our West Paris Baptist Church for an evening of both instrumental and vocal music. Gabe Pacquin on the violin as well as vocal, Emily Slach on piano and Christa Hirsch, Gabe Pacquin and Tyler Weymouth, vocal trio. Their leader and chaperone was Calvin Hood, who also graduated from NBI with several people from our area. Folks from several area churches also came to hear this enthusiastic music group. What a blessing they were to us all.

On Tuesday, the West Paris Senior Citizens met for luncheon at the Market Square Restaurant. There were 13 in attendance. It was good to see Avis and Ellis Ellingwood and Joyce Lamb, also Pat and Fred Breaime, all of whom we have not seen for several months. Our June luncheon and meeting will be held at the home of Patricia and Fred Breaime, approximately one and one-half miles above Trap Corner, Route 26 on the right, at 12 noon on Tuesday, June 1. Hope to see you all there.

Don't forget Maine-New Hampshire Night, May 15, at Lakeside Grange in Harrison with a 5 p.m. sit-down pork supper with all the trimmings, followed by a program put on by our fellow grangers from New Hampshire. Maine grangers hold office this night. Hope to see you all there.

West Paris Grange 298 will begin their monthly suppers on May 29 at 5 p.m. at their Grange Hall, 4 Church Street, West Paris. Come on out for a good meal.

See you all next week.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers. How are you this week? Fine, I hope.

On May 5, the Friendly Senior Citizens met at the North Waterford Church vestry for their monthly meeting and dinner. There were 28 people attending and there was a delicious meal of homemade macaroni and cheese casseroles and meatloaf, rolls, turnip and carrots, etc., also cake and ice cream honoring the birthday people there. Viola puts on a good meal. Thanks, Viola. The meeting was opened by President Eleanor Nelson at 11:30 a.m. Secretary and treasurer's reports were read and accepted after a couple of corrections made. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Arlene Wood. She also gave the prayer before the meal. Two new people joined the organization. Welcome, ladies. It was reported that TRIAD will again be at the Fairgrounds on Friday, June 25, 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. with free lunch, music and many safety tips for senior citizens. There will be door prizes and a lot more going on. It sounds like a fun day. Speakers of the day were Kim Pelky and Roderick Gordon who talked about the Modern Woodmen (Insurance) of America and Medicare supplements and prescription savings. Marg Nihan presented all members with a pretty pansy plant to take home with them. Thanks, Marg. The next meeting will be same place and same time at the North Waterford Church vestry and will be a potluck dinner. Everyone to bring a hot dish or salad or something to add to the meal and no charge to people who bring something. This will be on June 2 and there will be a speaker.

As you all know by now the transfer station (dump) requires the new red sticker and was enforced as of May 1. You can get one from the Town Office. Also, the new dump hours are: Tuesday, 12 to 4 p.m., Thursday, 12 to 4 p.m., Saturday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, 12 to 4 p.m.

The Lions Club is coming to Stoneham and Waterford. The Lions Club of Maine and district governor, Bob Swett, are approaching the Stoneham/Waterford area about chartering their very own Lions Club. Lions Clubs are volunteers and members of the largest volunteer service organization in the world. More importantly, they are organizations that make local towns and communities a better place to live. Specifically, they help support community youth, elderly, build town parks, support local fire departments and bring a sense of pride and involvement to each community. Imagine what a Lions Club could do to help support the communities of Stoneham and Waterford. On a larger scale, Lions Clubs are striving to eliminate preventable blindness and support diabetes awareness and prevention, vision screening for glaucoma and other common vision problems. The first membership meeting and supper is scheduled for early June at Camp Susan Curtis. There will be more information and details to follow as well as information posted at local establishments, post offices and town halls. Imagine everything that can be done to help the citizens of Stoneham and Waterford and make our towns a better place.

olden days, or not-so-olden days who has meant a lot to us. Instead of a regular sermon we would like to share something about the people who have been so special to us. You do not have to be a member of this church to participate. The weekend of Old Home Days and class reunions will be a perfect time for us to think about and remember the past.

The After School Program at the school is off to a good start. The children are enjoying cooking, martial arts, sewing, French, iMovie, and fly tying. Marta Clements is running the program with several good helpers.

Beryl Bonney is improving after her surgery and is grateful to have her niece, Dorene Merrill, to help her.

This household is happy, for Buffy is healing well. He loves to sleep in the leaves and roll in the dirt and grass. Every day I pick at least two wood ticks off him. When I pick him up he leaves some on me, too.

Franklin Grange 124 met for a regular meeting on Monday, May 3, with 12 members. It was reported a hearing clinic will be held at West Paris on May 20. This will be held at the Grange Hall and is free. The TRIAD and Sheriff's Picnic held for senior citizens will be June 25 at Fryeburg Fairgrounds. This is free for seniors. On May 28 there will be a mock Hee Haw Show at the Grange Hall at 7 p.m. Mother's Day program followed the meeting. Opening thought, Bertha; open-guests. The banquet starts at 6 p.m. Seniors with a grandparent or great-grandparent who graduated from WHS may apply for a $50 scholarship from the alumni by going to the guidance office.

Many area Pythians attended the Grand Lodge and Temple Pythian Sisters of Maine at their convention the weekend of April 23 and on the weekend of May 1 attended the grand session of New Hampshire at Cabot Inn. Those attending from this area were Carol and Pat Young, Clem and Donna Worcester, Harold Falkenham, Mary Crandell, Dot Canwell, Mr. and Mrs. Donny Bennett, Arlene Merrill, Evelyn Bean and Colleen Stanley.

Members, associate members and friends are invited to attend a meeting on Wednesday, May 12, at 7 p.m. at the Universalist Church of Bryant Pond. Business will be discussed and voted on. All invited who wish to do so.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens met on Thursday at the Grange Hall with around 30 present. The Grange served a potluck dinner and the program was Rod Gordon with Woodmen's Insurance. It was voted to go to the Colonial Restaurant for the June meeting.

ited Larry's New England Cultural Center and seemed to enjoy it. Larry has donated several items to the Historical Society including a cookbook, model rowboat and travel books. The museum represents a real community effort over the years with donations from nearly everyone. The society's membership is small but dedicated and active. They accomplish very good results. The research library contains a variety of subjects. They also have manuscripts of local historian, Ruby Emery. She studies Woodstock thoroughly. The museum contains letters from famous people, jewelry, furniture, dishes, pictures, quilts, clothing and much more. Visit this summer. Starting in June it will be open 1 to 4 p.m. each Saturday. Meetings are the second Saturday of the month at 7 p.m.

My washer stopped doing its job one day this past week. Called Gallants, where we purchased it, and they came right down. Richard had left some long nails in a shirt pocket when he washed some clothes and they got stuck in the agitator. We got it fixed and ready to go again.

Murrill Blazier has installed some lights along his driveway, across the road from us. They are solar lights and they work real well.

Richard House is having a deck installed on his home here. Also a building to use for storage.

Our son, Rick, played ball with the Westies again Sunday at West Paris field. They won by the skin of their teeth. Wes Smith got a beautiful home run that went over the fence. Good job. They played Rumford team.

My sister and husband, Evelyn and Jim Dunn, came by for a visit. Evelyn is seeing a doctor in Lewiston to see if they can find something to make her feel like herself again.

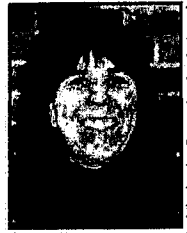

Our cat, Billy, who's about 12 years old, hasn't been well all of a sudden. He's lost weight and sleeps most of the time. I took him to the vet and they say he has cancer. I brought him home for now, and will keep him here as long as I can.

He's a stray cat that came to our glass sliding door 12 years ago one winter night. He was just a very small kitten and we've had him ever since. He's a very calm, loving cat and we'll miss him terribly. We have another cat, Daisy, that we've had for about six years. They are a part of our family.

We're attending a party for Freda Gaudreau this week, who is retiring after working 22 years for the State Highway Department in Bethel. I'll have some news on this next week.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that it's best to keep your thoughts to yourself. If you talk about yourself, you're a bore, if you talk about others you're a gossip."

Waterford

What a roller coaster ride the weather has been. It has been warm — high 70s — and cold enough that I thought it would snow. I guess it did in some places. The rain has been good for the flowers, but we are covering them to avoid the frosts. It is May. I am ready not to cover flowers. But the full moon in June is June 3, and that is what I have always used as a rule for planting — i.e. not till after the first full moon in June. I do not know if Waterford is different than Newry, but we will not plant anything but the hardy veggies till then. Of course the garden is not ready, anyway, but soon it will be.

After stacking neatly all our wood, the last load arrived on Saturday. That is when it was confirmed that we don't have room to stack it all. Now David is extending the wood shed so we do have room. By the time you read this it should be finished and maybe even all stacked. It will be nice to have done early. The only flaw is if we sell the house. Then we have to move the wood again. Oh well.

I neglected last week to congratulate Elizabeth Braumhoff on her bat mitzvah. Way to go, Liz. Sorry I had to miss it, but I had to work.

We made a big trip to Portland last week. My idea was to get cheese — not just any cheese but sheep's milk cheese — and new shoes/boots. I was successful on the cheese, but not the shoes. In any case, Dave and I and Becky and Peanut took off for Portland last week and spent more than we could afford and had a good time. We went to our favorite store — Micucci's. It is in the old Italian neighborhood which puts it at the edge of the Old Port. It is part of the neighborhood that was destroyed by the Franklin Arterial being created in the '60s. We also went to the mall and Becky bought shoes — I couldn't find my size — and we both bought new outfits. They even match. I guess that makes up for no shoes. I may have to go to Labonville's to try for boots for work.

Friend Ted St. Pierre of Bethel is scheduled this week — the 11th for surgery. I hope all goes well and he is back to 100 percent soon. Get well Ted.

Fare Share Follies will be this week on Friday, the 14th, at 7 p.m. at the Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School auditorium. It will feature Karen Hurl Montanaro, Joe Perham, Debi Irons, Leah Wolfson with Rei Cortez, Rick Adams, Jewel Clark and Donnie Katlin, and Antonio Rocha, mime/story teller. There will be a surprise at the end. Tickets are $10 adults and $5 under 12. They are available at the Fare Share Market and at the door. FMI Lisa Moore 743-9808 or Alan Day 743-0165.

Waterford Transfer Station Committee meets this week, and I will report on it next week. The goal is to upgrade the transfer station to both meet state law and make it user friendly. All Waterford, Stoneham and Albany residents must have their new stickers by now in order to use the transfer station.

Deertrees will be opening in June. I look forward to seeing their new schedule. It is nice to have them in this area. That is all for this week.

Have a great week and enjoy the warmth as it comes.

Thought for the week: "The deeds of men never escape the gods."

Salute to the Armed Forces on May 15.

Call to worship was held Sunday morning, May 2, at 9 a.m. at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. Thought for the day by Sue Wight. Scripture readings by Owen Wight, Nancy and Sue. The message of the day was, "Coming to Life" from Rev. 7: 16 and 17. "They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them nor any heat. For the lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them and shall lead them unto the living fountains of water, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." A prayer followed, hymns sung, benediction and postlude, amen.

Chapter of

Trout Unlimited

The Mollyockett Chapter of Trout Unlimited is holding their Spring Round-Up and Barbecue at 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 16. The chapter invites both members and the public to enjoy an afternoon of fishing and refreshments, instruction and fun.

The Round-Up will be held at Camp Winona on Hio Ridge Road off Route 302 in Bridgton. Launch a canoe or fish from the shore of beautiful Moose Pond. Free fly tying and casting lessons will be available from the chapter's certified "First Cast" instructors. An all-day guided striper-fishing trip worth $350 will be raffled off. Raffle tickets will be available at the Round-Up.

Barbecue fare will consist of hamburgers and hot dogs, etc. Beverages will be provided, also. A $5 per person donation is requested.

For more information or raffle tickets, call either Dick Walthers (743-7461) or Lee (743-9080).

The Round-Up will be held rain or shine.

All are welcome to attend this breakfast, but an RSVP is required by Tuesday, May 13. A $5 buffet breakfast will be served.

We hope to see you on Friday, May 14, at the 35th annual Chamber Awards Dinner and Auction at the Grand Summit Hotel at Sunday River Ski Resort sponsored by Mt. Abram Family Resort. It should be a great evening of recognition and celebration.

All are welcomed to attend the May Business After Hours at the McLaughlin Gardens in South Paris on Thursday, May 20, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Come see their world class gardens and facility and visit with our friends from the Oxford Hills.

From the

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The first lecture in the Bethel Historical Society's 2004 series will be held on Thursday, May 13, in the Dr. Moses Mason House Exhibit Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m. "Highlights of the History of Gilead, Maine" will be the topic as part of the society's recognition of the celebration of this western Maine town's bicentenary. Speakers will be Howard Reiche and Hugh Chapman, who have compiled a history of Gilead that was published earlier this year. Everyone is welcome and the lecture is free.

The society's Garden and Grounds Committee met last week and made plans for the 2004 season. Additional volunteers are welcome. Anyone with an interest in gardening who is willing to help with the society gardens is encouraged to call Jackie Cressy (824-0508) or the society at 824-2908.

The Faye Taylor Art Show is scheduled for Saturday, May 29, at the Dr. Moses Mason House Exhibit Hall. The theme this year is "River Ferries on the Androscoggin." Students in SAD44 (Grades 1-6) are urged to enter the contest. Further information can be obtained by calling the society office at 824-2908.

Also on May 29, the society will hold its annual St. Never's Day sale. Items in good condition (no clothes please) are still being collected for the sale. They may be left at the back entrance of O'Neil Robinson House, 10 Broad Street. If pick-up is necessary, please call the society at 824-2908.

From

Gould Academy

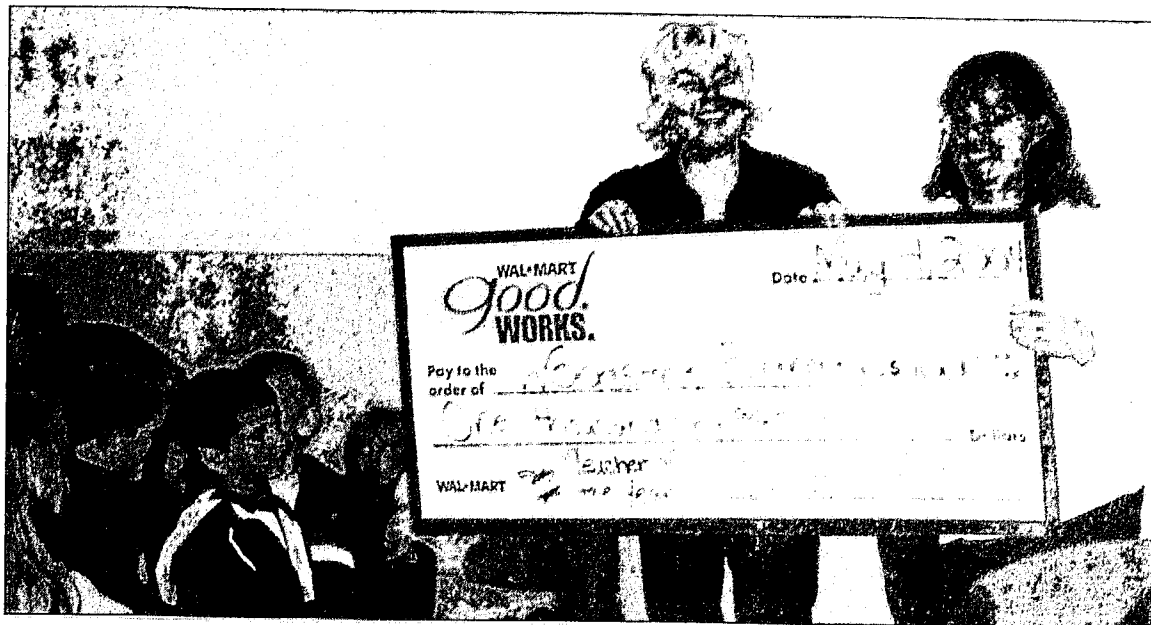

Gould Academy Dean of Faculty Mac Davis recently announced that teacher Doug Alford is this year's recipient of the Philip C. Rau Teacher Development Award. Each year the award is given to a classroom teacher at Gould who personifies the characteristics that animated the late Philip Rau '86 during his very short, but very successful teaching career.

Rau was a student at Gould from 1984 until his graduation in June 1986. During those two years he made significant academic progress and personal growth and was significantly influenced by teachers who served as role models.

During Philip's undergraduate and postgraduate work at Lake Forest College and Emory University, and as he began his teaching career, he became aware of the influence of his high school teachers and found himself adopting many of their techniques. These methods, matched with his ebullient spirit and commitment, served him and his students very well and led to an early appointment as chair of the nine-person History Department at Norcross High School. Tragically, a teenage gunman shot Philip during an armed robbery April 24, 1999, and he died early the following morning. A brilliant teaching career was extinguished even before it reached maturity.

The award is endowed by a fund set up by Philip's mother and stepfather, Karen and Howard Gopen of Palo Alto, Calif., and provides funding during the summer for faculty professional development opportunities. Alford will use the grant to continue his master's degree work in Spanish at Middlebury College.

TEACHER RECOGNIZED—Kim Rossignol (left), a kindergarten teacher at the Woodstock Elementary School, is the recipient of the Oxford Wal-Mart's Teacher of the Year Award. She was nominated by one of her student's parents. The parent cited the students' enjoyment of school, the time Rossignol spent with individual students and the progress they have made. At a presentation attended by students last week, she received a $1,000 check for the school from Alyssa Bouchard of Wal-Mart. Rossignol has also been entered in a statewide Teacher of the Year contest.

School Sports

High School Varsity Baseball

Telstar 2, Monmouth 0; May 10— Telstar's Terry Collins recorded his fourth shutout in a win over Monmouth. August Reiss had a home run, and Travis Brooks had two hits.

Gould 8, CVA 4; May 8 — On Saturday, the Gould Academy varsity baseball team had to come from behind twice, to earn an 8-4 win over CVA. The Huskies trailed by 2 when they came up in the first, quickly taking the lead on a triple (Karl Olson), double (Quinn McAllister) and home run (TJ Savage). CVA came right back with 2 more runs and held a 4-3 lead until the fifth, when 4 were scored on a bases-loaded walk to Quinn, 2 more RBI by TJ on a double and Jon Monson's single. The final run came on Quinn's home run. Gary Rumley picked up the pitching victory, going five innings, and Quinn the save. Play of the game...Will Carver's diving catch in right field.

Gould 4, Telstar 2; May 7 — Crosstown rivals Gould and Telstar met on the diamond in a low scoring baseball game, as Gould prevailed 4-2. The Huskies scored one in the fourth and one in the sixth to take a 2-0 lead. In the bottom of the sixth Telstar tied it up without a hit, on four walks and a hit batsman. In the top of the seventh, after Gould runners stole second and third, Matt Stone's ground ball to left scored both runners. Though the game was not over, three more walks loaded the bases, but a ground out to second ended the threat. Karl Olson pitched for Gould allowing two hits, while striking out 10 and Ryan Cross pitched for Telstar, allowing four hits.

Gould 15, Hebron 3; May 5 — The game was decided early, as Gould's Jon Monson delivered a bases-loaded triple in the first inning and then scored on a wild pitch. Quinn McAllister pitched a very efficient four-hitter, backed by outstanding plays in the field. A nine run outburst in the third inning assured the fourth victory in a row. Quinn also played offense, collecting three hits and two RBIs; Karl Olson had two hits and scored three runs; Jon added four RBIs with his two hits; TJ Savage had a triple, and Bump Heldman doubled. A couple of outstanding defensive plays came from Jon — a first inning catch of a foul ball, and an inning ending, bases-loaded, 5-3 double play. Another great rally-killing play was pulled off by Glendon Carver, to an alert Seth Gray to Jon at third, preventing a triple.

Telstar 2, Winthrop 0; May 5— Kurt Wight had a double in a win over Winthrop. Rebel pitcher Terry Collins struck out eight in shutting out the Ramblers.

High School JV Baseball

Telstar 20 Gould 3 April 28— Telstar's Ryan Kimball pitched five innings, recording 6 strike outs and walking 4. The offense was led by Kimball, who had a home run and a double. Allan Buck had a triple. The Rebels played good defense and did a good job running the bases.

Telstar 11, Madison 10 May 6— Louis Thornton, Gavin Parker, and Nate Walker combined for a good pitching performance. The Rebels were behind most of the game then came to life in the late innings to get the win. Blake Conrad and Nate Walker had home runs.

High School Varsity Softball

Telstar 15, Monmouth 0; May 10— Telstar's Kayla Mills and Tiffany

Jordan each had three hits and Jessie Farrington, Meagan Lunney and Liz Rosenberg each had two in a win over Monmouth. Jillian Kimball was the winning pitcher, with nine strikeouts.

Telstar 5, Jay 2; May 6— Telstar pitcher Jillian Kimball struck out eight as the undefeated Rebels beat previously undefeated Jay. Liz Rosenberg had two hits, one a double, and scored twice. Jessie Farrington also had multiple hits.

Telstar 9, Winthrop 2; May 5— Telstar's Kayla Mills, Santana Wilson and Ashley Stambolis each had doubles and Jillian Kimball had a triple in a win over Winthrop. Kimball was the winning pitcher for the Rebels.

High School Boys' Track

Meet at Mt. Valley, May 11— Mt. Valley 122, Telstar 39, Dirigo 37, Jay 26. Individual Telstar results: 100m: 1. Alex Helms (11.6); 5. Danny Ojeda (12.7). 400m relay: 3. Telstar 1:03.36. 400m: 3. Alex Helms (57.51); 4. Mike Hoy (58.77). 800m: 4. Jason McAvoy (2:22.56). 5. Andrew Farrington (2:24.64). 1,600m: 2. Andrew Farrington (4:56) 4. Paul Walters (5:57). 3,200m relay: 3. Telstar (9:34). Long jump: 4. Danny Ojeda (16-6). Javelin: 5. Matt Mills (102).

High School Girls' Track

Meet at Mt. Valley, May 11— Dirigo 120, Mt. Valley 67, Jay 25, Telstar 15. Individual Telstar results: 400m relay: 3. Telstar 1:03.36. High jump: 2. Davis (4-2). Long jump: 4. Bailey (10-6 ½).

Women's Varsity Lacrosse

May 8 - The Gould women's Varsity Lacrosse team played their best game of the season, beating Hyde school 10-9 in a very close match up. Everyone on the team put in strong performances, making it a full team effort. The team is now # 1 in the league and were scheduled to play # 4 Kents Hill Wednesday at home in the MAISAD semi-finals.

Men's Varsity Lacrosse

May 8 - On Saturday Gould Academy's boy's varsity lacrosse team played The Hyde School. Gould jumped off to a quick 1-0 lead on a goal from Owen Ross after a nice feed from Brooks Lord. Hyde tied it and then jumped ahead 2-1 at the end of the first quarter. An illegal stick penalty gave Hyde a three-minute man advantage, which Gould could never overcome. Gould's defense played very well, giving up only two goals during the man advantage. The half ended with the score 6-2. Joel Parker scored the second Gould goal of the game with some great individual effort. The second half was an even game with Hyde scoring two goals in the third quarter, and one in the fourth quarter with 16 seconds left. Graham Voigt scored Gould's lone goal of the second half. Matt Humbert played well in the Gould goal.

Men's Varsity Tennis

Gould vs. Kents Hill; May 5 — Gould Academy's varsity men's tennis team lost to Kents Hill School, the defending MAISAD champions. Ludwig Berls, Jens Ostendorf, and Patrick Kim all competed very well against very strong opponents. Howard (coach) Seo and Jay Shir improved as a doubles team but couldn't hold off their rivals. John Pendergast and Will Daly split the first two sets but couldn't hold on to their momentum for a win.

Women's Varsity Tennis

Gould vs. Kents Hill; May 5 — The Gould women's tennis team played their final match of the regular season on their home courts. In singles action, Mason Friedman and Eliza Van Heerden both won in two straight sets. On the first court, Brie Noyes put up a valiant fight against a stubborn opponent, pushing the first set to a tie breaker (6-6, 5-7) but eventually succumbing in the second set. In doubles action, Laura Miklos and Liz Carson continue to dramatically improve and work together, narrowly losing their first set 4-6 (4-6, 2-6). Andrea DeCaro and Maleah Piazza are beginning to find their stride as they move closer to the MAISAD doubles tournament May 15.

TMS Softball

Madison 13, Telstar 11; May 10 — The TMS Softball Team lost their first game of the year 11-13 to Madison. Vicki Rice, Liz Merrill, and Candace Hall had 11 strikeouts and gave up only four hits in the contest. The Rebels were leading going into the 6th inning but were unable to hold on for the win. Vicki Rice had three doubles and single to pace the offense. Other hits came from Whitney Mills with a single and a triple. Bailey Davis with a home run, Josie Reiss with two doubles, a triple by Nikki Hughes, and hits by Lindsay James, Sarah Field, Julia Stambolis and Merrill. The team is now 5-1 on the year.

Telstar 30, Jay 7 (5 innings); May 6— The young Lady Rebels improved to a 5-0 record Thursday beating Jay 30-7. Superior pitching by Candace Hall and Whitney Mills made it hard for Jay to get into the game combining for nine K's, four walks, and allowing only five hits. The Rebels scored 30 runs on 32 hits. Mills led the way with five hits. Abby Hutchins three hits including a triple, Josie Reiss three hits with a home run, her fourth of the year, three hits each for Hall, Liz Merrill, Sarah Field, two hits each for Esther Pew, Abbie Cummings, Vicki Rice who had two doubles, and Katie Smith. Nikki Hughes, Andrea Gunther, Sam Largess, and Julia Stambolis each had a hit. It was a great team effort. — coach Mark Kenney Kathryn (Davis) Hamlin of Longmeadow, Mass., formerly of Bethel, died Tuesday, May 4, 2004 in Baystate Medical Center, Springfield, Mass.

She was born in Bethel on Feb. 18, 1923, educated in Bethel schools graduating from Gould Academy in Bethel and Westbrook Junior College in Portland. She and her husband of 60 years moved to Longmeadow 34 years ago. She was a member of the First Church of Christ in Longmeadow.

Besides her husband, Charles G. Hamlin, she is survived by two sons, Richard of Springfield, Mass., and Jeffrey of Holyoke; a grandson, David; a granddaughter, Keren; and a great-granddaughter, Katrina.

Funeral services were held Monday, May 10, at the Greenleaf Funeral Home, Bethel. Burial followed at Riverside Cemetery, Bethel. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the First Church of Christ, 763 Longmeadow Street, Longmeadow, MA 01106.

PENELOPE POOR

Penelope "Penny" Poor, 56, a longtime resident of Andover, died May 5, 2004 at Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston, following a 24-year struggle for life against the effects of Hodgkin's disease. With characteristic courage, she had fought for recovery from recent surgery; a week later, with even greater courage, she accepted and faced her passing with her loving family at her bedside.

Born Nov. 25, 1947, at the Rumford Hospital, she was the first child of Frances DeLong and Archer Dalton Poor Jr. At age two, in her father's arms, "Penny" turned her young face directly into the wind on Andover's Main Street; from the start, she was undaunted by adversity.

She graduated from Andover High School in 1966; she went on to attend Husson College in Bangor and then Andover College in Portland. Then she turned to her culinary gift, inherited from both of her parents, becoming chef and pastry cook at the famous Balsams Hotel in New Hampshire, and later at Summerfields in Laconia, N.H.

Her loves were many. Some of them emerged when she was a girl and occurred mostly in the Richardson Lakes area: paddling a canoe through a quiet bog or across rough lake waters; climbing mountains; cannon balling off a diving board into Upper Richardson's icy morning waters or diving off a pier at Upper Dam; and sleeping out on Big Rock.

As a grown woman, she found more to do: fishing, listening to music, gardening, knitting, quilting, and making maple syrup in her father's maple orchard. Once she was compromised by Hodgkin's disease, her interests and loves only grew: the natural world became her university, and she became an expert in many of its areas.

She studied the behavior of loons, eagles, fox, and birds, especially the hummingbird, and she read all she could about these creatures, as well as Maine's history from 10,000 years ago, a specialty of her father's. She knew wildflowers and wild grasses, and she decorated the woods near Upper Dam with red and pink impatiens. Her sister took her up to the lake before her recent surgery. "It was the best day of my life," she said of it.

While most people faced with her limitations would succumb to television watching, she was instead a tireless volunteer; first at the Andover Library where she also was a trustee, the Andover Bicentennial Committee, and the Friends of Richardson, and she conducted the loon count for Maine Audubon.

Her love of her family filled much of her heart. She especially loved her three nephews and one niece; she labored with love over a high school graduation quilt for her niece a year ago, and again this year, she and her sister, Paula, completed a quilt for their nephew Peter's graduation from high school.

She knitted endlessly for Ryan and Cory when they were young. Her sister Paula and brother Peter and their families never wavered in their support of her; she returned their support with homemade gifts and a generous, loving heart.

She will be sadly missed by her father, Archer Dalton Poor Jr.; her sister and brother-in-law, Paula P. and David F. McDonald; her brother and sister-in-law, Peter J. and Belinda Poor; her nephews, Ryan David McDonald, Cory Stevens McDonald, and Peter John Poor II; and a niece, Jenna Lee Poor.

The loons and eagles of Upper Richardson will likewise miss her, but many believe they will carry her spirit into the woods and the sky, and over the lake, so part of her may abide in the place she most loved.

She was predeceased by her mother, Frances DeLong Poor.

At the family's request, there were no public calling hours, but friends were invited to attend the funeral services Saturday, May 8, at the Andover Congregational Church, Andover, with the Rev. Jane Rich officiating. Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover. The family requests that, instead of flowers, a gift may be made to one of Penny's interests: Andover Congregational Church, P.O. Box 249, Andover, ME 04216, Friends of Richardson, P.O. Box 71, Andover, ME 04216, or a charity of one's choice. Online condolences and memories may be shared at meaderfh@gwi.net

PRISCILLA W. RINEBOLD

Priscilla W. Rinebold, 85, of Bethel, died on May 7, 2004 at Bridgton following a massive stroke.

She was born in Athens, Pa., eldest child of Robert and Cornelia (Lendrom) Watkins. She graduated from Athens High School, Class of 1937. She worked for Ingersoll Rand until she married Lewis Rinebold, Jr. in 1943. She accompanied him and the Glider School of Elmira, N.Y. to Mobile, Ala., to support the war effort. She returned to Athens during the year her husband was in India flying the Hump. This was only the beginning of many years of moving adventures, during which she raised five children and always had her bag packed. She was awarded a life membership in the PTA for 32 years of service.

She was a patient and loving wife and mom, a dedicated grandma to her grandchildren and many others.
